

Lodging & Camping (Winter)

There are no lodges, campgrounds, or gas stations open in the park from mid-October to late May.

Below is a list of the nearest accommodations outside the park that are open year-round. More options can be found in Shady Cove (55 miles from Park Headquarters), Klamath Falls (57 miles), Chemult (71 miles), and other cities in southern Oregon.

Staying overnight inside the park requires a backcountry permit. Permits are available free of charge at Park Headquarters during business hours, which are typically 10 am to 4 pm daily in the winter. Backcountry campers must travel at least 1 mile from their vehicle in order to camp. Sleeping in vehicles is not allowed.

The closest year-round gas stations are in Prospect, Chiloquin, and Diamond Lake.
